

Road to Recover Program

The American Cancer Society Road to Recovery program connects volunteer drivers with those who need transportation to and from their treatments. Cancer patients in your community need your help and you can make a difference in their lives. Whether you need a ride or wish to give a ride contact us.

Do you want to make a difference in your community? Have you, or someone you've known, ever been diagnosed with cancer?

Clinical Trials Matching Service

The is free, confidential program helps patients, their families, and health care workers find cancer clinical trials that best fit a patient's medical and personal situation. Through clinical trials we discover better ways to prevent, find, and cure cancer. Visit: cancer.org/clinicaltrials

Reach to Recovery

The American Cancer Society has offered the Reach To Recovery program for more than 45 years as one of the many ways we are providing support. Reach To Recovery has provided support to more than 1 million cancer patients by providing emotional and practical support to improve the quality of life for those touched by breast cancer through a proactive peer support model where trained breast cancer survivors provide support, information and resources.

Connecting your community.

Hope Lodge Program

American Cancer Society Hope Lodges provide support for cancer patients and their caregivers when they are the most vulnerable and without the anchor of familiar surroundings and relationships important to them. Private guest rooms with shared kitchen, eating area, laundry facilities and quiet spaces. The Hope Lodge provides a safe, supportive, home-like environment where cancer patients and their caregivers can stay when their best hope for a cure is receiving treatment in another city.

Hotel Partnering Program

The American Cancer Society partners with local hotels across the country to provide rooms for cancer patients and their caregivers when they must travel away from home for treatment. The American Cancer Society Hotel Partner Program can help ease some of the emotional and financial concerns patients and their families are facing during an already challenging time.

Look Good Feel Better Program

Cancer can rob a woman of her energy, appetite, and strength. But it doesn't have to take away her self-confidence. During Look Good Feel Better group workshops, volunteer beauty professionals teach simple techniques to women in active treatment to help them cope with skin and nail changes and hair loss. Workshop participants receive a free cosmetic kit and style tips. Group workshops are free and led by licensed volunteers beauty professionals. Information and materials are also available for men and teens.
